22/23 October,
Margaret McMillan
Tower and City Park

Hi Everyone!

Born in Bradford are back for another Family Festival, this year the theme is All About Me! You'll find us in City Park and Margaret McMillan Tower on 22 October and 23 October, come and join us to kick start your half term!

You can meet the researchers and find out what they do, have your photo taken in our fabulous 'What I Want To Be When I Grow Up' photo booth or in Ian Beesley's Let's Leap Studio! Join in science experiments and work out at the BiB challenge! See pages 4/5.

You can take a look around our marketplace to find out about the different organisations in your area, whilst the children are kept busy with table top activities! More activities will be announced, so look on our Facebook page for the latest information.

Explore our BiG BiB Research Bus in City Park and find out about the new BiB Growing Up study, see page 3.

The Family Festival are part of the annual two week Family Learning Festival this year and details of other exciting events and experiences on offer in the Bradford district can be found on pages 5/6.

Hop on board the BiG Biß research bus!

Over the next two years we are planning to revisit all the BiB families to do follow up assessments so that we can see how lives across Bradford have changed since you were recruited.

We are looking at all the factors that affect your family's health and well-being and your children's educational attainment.

You will receive an invitation through the post to hop on board the BiG BiB Research bus when it is parked up in your area, to come to a local community venue or to have a home visit.

We have fun questions and assessments for the children, a new questionnaire for mums and dads and a new set of measurements including a scan that shows you your bone density (you do it fully clothed!).

We want to catch up with dads, even if we missed them at the initial recruitment we can recruit them into the study now and we can keep your non BiB children entertained whilst the BiB members are busy – so it really is open to the whole family to come along!

Free!

In Your Face

Interactive experience for families

Free, drop in, 10am-4pm every day

Join us for a pick-and-mix adventure of hands-on displays, demonstrations and activities as we investigate the most photographed, examined, and expressive part of the human body: the face.

Drop into one of the Stations around our two galleries and you'll have the opportunity to join in a quick activity, listen to a short talk or take on a fast and fun challenge. Get thinking, get talking, get involved and learn something new.

Plus during October half term you'll be able to join with our Aardman expression lab! Aardman are the cool animators who make Shaun the Sheep and Wallace and Gromit, and now it's your turn to see what expressions you can create.

There are lots more events taking place across Bradford. Contact the venues below for more information:
